Statement of Objectives

Lee Tarlamis OAM MP

Government Whip in the Legislative Council
Member for South-Eastern Metropolitan Region

The largest Indian population in Victoria is in the South Eastern suburbs, which I proudly serve as the Member for South Eastern Metropolitan Region.

Being the Member for South Eastern Metropolitan Region, I have a great understanding of the Indian community's deep cultural ties to their culture, customs, and values. The cultural festivals of Diwali, Holi, and Vaisakhi, which are fervently observed in my electorate, are ones that I truly appreciate every year.

I travelled to India to strengthen the relationship between Victoria and India, make contacts with business executives and government officials, and comprehend the shared values and interests of our governments to inform my job as their Legislative Council representative.

Victoria is a superb site for making movies and television shows, which will promote Victoria to the enormous Indian tourism market.

Meeting Indian business representatives from the Indian film and television industry was a major goal of this trip because the Victorian government would appreciate the chance for investment here.

This would not only create economic benefits for the Victorian film and television industry – with local production staff employed – but also promote Victoria as a top tourist destination for Indians.

I'm glad this trip to India was able to establish those first connections and start conversations about Victoria's attractiveness as a hub for Indian trade and investment.

ASTRALAYA - Australia India Business and Culture Council, a non-profit organisation, was instrumental in setting up important meetings with state government representatives, companies, and the Indian film industry to enhance links between Victoria and India. Through this council, there is a chance to strengthen bilateral culture, and commerce, foster cooperation, and open new commercial prospects between the two nations.

As a result, trade between Victoria and India will be effective in growing the local economy, adding jobs, and attracting investment. Nonetheless, there is always an opportunity for growth in these areas.

The Trade Relationship Between India and Victoria

1. India is Victoria's second-largest merchandise trading partner, with merchandise exports valued at $9.1 billion in 2019–20. [1]
2. Trade between India and Victoria is an important element of both countries' economies. Victoria is India's largest trading partner, with two-way merchandise trade reaching $ 20.6 billion in 2019-20. [2]
3. The Government's dedication to liberalising and diversifying trade with India is the driving force behind this substantial trading partnership. [3]
4. Victoria's exports to India include coal, gold, wine and educational services, while major imports from India include gems and jewellery, pharmaceuticals, apparel and processed foods. [4]
5. Victoria has strengthened bilateral trade, investment, and tourism by establishing solid economic ties with India.
6. Victoria's international education strategy prioritises India as a priority market, and Victoria and India have a growing bilateral connection in the field of education.
7. Victoria has made large investments in India, such as the air freight route between Melbourne and Mumbai.
8. Perishables from India, including seafood, dairy products, fruits, and vegetables, may now be transported to Victoria thanks to this corridor, generating revenue for both nations.

The goals, significant gatherings, and policy talks that happened during the nine-day period are described in this report.

Conclusion

Strong social and economic ties have existed between Victoria and India for a very long time.

We annually welcome numerous students choosing Victoria for tertiary studies and further education options, with the number of new immigrants who have immigrated from India growing.

After the pandemic, we have faced new difficulties, mainly among them the reported worsening of talent shortages in important sectors including healthcare, tourism, hospitality, and construction.

This gives a chance for a rebound driven by increased productivity and innovation as we manage labour market shifts and methods to rebuild and resuscitate these industries in Victoria.

Additionally, it offers the chance to collaborate with nations like India.

Recommendations

1. Reform and Promote Victoria's policies around economic enhancements for film and television production, to incentivise Victoria as an attractive production destination.
2. Foster closer relationships with the Indian Electrical & Allied electronics Industry to encourage greater trade and investment opportunities in Victoria
